ORGANIC SEAWEED Foliar Feed

The added growth promoters and the stronger cell structure will mean your plant can support itself whilst putting on the inches, developing stronger stem and healthier leaf surface structure in readiness for the summertime heavy fruit and blooms, guaranteeing a longer season and incredible yields.

Did you know that foliar feeding means you can start getting vital nutrients into your plants through the leaves even when the roots are dormant in the cold soils of late winter & early spring... building up the absorption of the 80 trace elements, growth promoters and virus resistance means your plants are not only getting that vital head start on the growing season...but with ongoing Bio Magic foliar feeding throughout the season you will enjoy spectacular results from your 2006 gardening year!
